Appendix

The Equality Act 2010 includes an exception for charities. This allows charities under certain circumstances to restrict benefits to people with a particular Protected Characteristic (but not a group defined by colour) if the restriction already appears in the charity's governing document.

Equality Act 2010 – Definitions

Age: An age group includes people of the same age and people of a particular range of ages. Where people fall in the same age group they share the protected characteristic of age.

Disability: A person has a disability if they have a physical or mental impairment, and the impairment as a substantial and long-term adverse effect on their ability to carry out normal day-to-day activities.

Gender reassignment: A person has the protected characteristic of gender reassignment if the person is proposing to undergo, is undergoing or has undergone a process (or part of a process) for the purpose of reassigning the person's sex by changing physiological or other attributes of sex.

Marriage and civil partnership: A person has the protected characteristic of marriage and civil partnership if the person is married or is a civil partner.

Pregnancy and maternity: Pregnancy is the condition of being pregnant or expecting a baby. Maternity refers to the period after the birth and is linked to maternity leave in the employment context. In the non-work context, protection against maternity discrimination is for 26 weeks after giving birth, and this includes treating a woman unfavourably because she is breastfeeding.

Race including colour, nationality, ethnic or national origin: A race can mean a person's colour, or nationality (including your citizenship). It can also mean a person's ethnic or national origins, which may not be the same as their current nationality

Religion or belief: Religion means any religion and a reference to religion includes a reference to a lack of religion. A religion must have a clear structure and belief system. Denominations or sects within a religion can be considered to be a religion or belief, such as Protestants and Catholics within Christianity.

Sexual Orientation: A person has the protected characteristics if they are heterosexual, gay, lesbian or bisexual or if they are perceived to have a particular sexual orientation or a person is connected to someone who has a particular sexual orientation.

Sex: People having the protected characteristic of sex being a man or a woman, and that men share this characteristic with other men, and women with other women.
